Fund Overview

Investment Goal: The Fund seeks moderately high, long-term capital appreciation with low, current income.

Principal Investment Strategies

The Fund is a fund-of-funds that seeks to achieve its investment goal by investing in other funds of the Trust (underlying funds). Under normal market conditions, the Fund's exposure to the two broad asset classes of debt and equity are expected to be within the following ranges: 15–30% debt and 70–85% equity. Within the broad asset classes of debt and equity are narrower asset-class categories. The Fund invests in underlying funds to gain exposure to these broad asset classes and narrower asset-class categories.

Why Portfolio Optimization Funds

One-Step Diversification

Each Portfolio Optimization Fund is diversified among multiple asset classes, providing you with a core asset-allocation solution to help meet your financial goals.

A Dedicated Team that Manages Multi-Asset Class Solutions

Pacific Life Fund Advisors' investment approach uses three fundamental disciplines:

- Asset allocation
- Manager research
- Investment risk management

Returns reflect reinvestment of dividends and distributions. Returns shown at net asset value (NAV) would have been lower if a sales charge had been deducted. Class A share returns shown at maximum offering price (MOP) reflect an up-front maximum 5.50% sales charge. Index inception dates existed prior to 12/31/03. Growth of $10,000 returns are shown at NAV and do not include sales charges. Performance for other share classes may differ.

¹A market capitalization-weighted index of 500 widely held stocks often used as a proxy for the U.S. stock market.

²Composed of investment-grade U.S. government and corporate bonds, mortgage pass-through securities, and asset-backed securities. ³Measures the performance of developed stock markets in Europe, Australasia, and the Far East.

Indexes are unmanaged and cannot be invested in directly. Further, they hold no cash and incur no expenses.

¹Calculated as of 3/31/19 fiscal year-end. ²Net assets of the entire Fund, including all share classes.

Total allocation percentages may not equal 100% due to rounding or omissions of holdings of less than 1%. The allocations shown are approximations as they do not account for all the investments of the underlying funds. If all the investments of an underlying fund were considered, asset-class allocations would vary from the allocations stated. The prospectuses for the underlying funds are available at PacificFunds.com.

About Principal Risks: There is no guarantee the Fund will achieve its investment goal. Asset allocation and diversification do not guarantee future results, ensure a profit or protect against loss. Although diversification among asset classes can help reduce volatility over the long term, this assumes that asset classes do not move in tandem and that positive returns in one or more asset classes will help offset negative returns in other asset classes. There is a risk that you could achieve better returns by investing in an individual fund or multiple funds representing a single asset class rather than using asset allocation. A fund-of-funds does not guarantee gains, may incur losses and/or experience volatility, particularly during periods of broad market declines, and is subject to its own expenses along with the expenses of the underlying funds. It is typically exposed to the same risks as the underlying funds in which it invests in proportion to their allocations.
